DETAILS

A3-500 is an arm protective sleeve made from 13-gauge seamless HPPE yarns. This sleeve has a steady performance A3/C cut protection which can protect arms from being cut by biting blades, sharp branches, and pet scratches after several washes. The velcro fastening allows the user to adjust the fit for maximum comfort. This sleeve is light in weight and makes the user feel smooth, soft, flexible, and breathable because it does not include glass and steel yarns. The A3-500 is widely used in general mechanical working areas.
